The Health and Specialty Care System appreciates and values our most important recruiters – our employees! Here is why we are doing this:

- We understand the importance of hiring the best-fit people with the right attitude, skills and abilities needed for our jobs and our culture.
- Employees want high-quality coworkers and are selective about who they encourage to apply.
- Candidates hired through referrals have more realistic expectations about what we do and the positions for which they are applying.
- We want to reward and recognize employees who refer candidates who are subsequently selected and successfully hired.
- Our goal is to generate focused recruitment efforts by our employees, who know what our needs are and where we must improve now.
- Those involved in employment decisions are ineligible to participate as recruitment of qualified candidates is an essential job function.
